Greetings To Our Friends

Dear Friends:—

Although we have met, face to face, but few of you we feel that we know many of you quite well because of the many friendly letters we have received. We have answered as many of your letters as we could, but some may have been missed because we have not had the time or strength to answer all of the letters that have come to us.

We are glad to hear from you and we appreciate your friendly interest, very much.

Where it is possible to have one, you will be delighted with an herb garden. Most of the herbs are such friendly plants, not showy but friendly and they give so freely of their pleasing fragrance. Herbs are not hard to grow, just give them the care you would give to most ordinary vegetables, and they will reward you with new and varied flavors for your food that will avoid monotony in your cooking.

As a general rule, three or four well grown plants of a variety will provide you with enough green herbs to flavor your food through the summer and enough left so that you can dry some for winter use.

And do not forget those dear little wild flowers that peep out so early in the spring, or the later ones that greet you all through the summer. They are a great solace to tired muscles and weary hearts.

GARRY NEE DULE, WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

We get a lot of letters asking us what Garry Nee Dule means. Some thirty odd years ago when we started life together we wanted a name for our home and nursery that would be individual and different. We hunted around and finally decided on Garry Nee Dule which is the phonetic spelling for the old Gaelic "Garrdha-Ni-Tuathail" which in plain English means Garden of the Toolles.

Herb Magic

Extreme care has been used in the preparation of these herbs to insure you a product that is clean and full of flavor or fragrance. All the culinary herbs have been carefully gathered, inspected, and sorted and washed; then placed in screen bottomed trays and dried under cover so as to preserve every possible bit of the fresh natural fragrance and flavor. After another inspection they are stored in air-tight containers until packaged.

These flavorful herbs are granulated, ready to use. A folder, prepared by Mrs. Toole, gives many suggestions for the use of these herbs, enclosed with each order, on request. It will just fit your card index recipe file.

It is not possible to give exact amounts to be used of the different herbs due to varying tastes. In a general way, start with a level teaspoonful for six portions and increase or lessen the amount according to taste, or in recipes use one scant teaspoon of dried herbs where a tablespoon of green herbs is called for.

Because many people who have previously bought our herbs now have the glass jars for storage, we are now offering refill packages of $\frac{1}{2}$ and 1 oz. size at a lower price for those who want them.

PREPARED CULINARY HERBS

BASIL—Has a spicy flavor, which is very desirable; for salads and dishes containing tomato and cheese, eggplant, squash, carrots, peas, meats; and especially for meat substitutes, including beans and fish.

LEMON BASIL—A new Basil, from Siam, with a delightfully fresh lemon flavor. It may be used wherever a lemon flavor is desired, in teas or in cooling drinks and cocktails; in salads, desserts; and in sauces for fish.

BAY LEAVES (whole)—For those preferring the whole leaf we have jars, containing 1 oz., of selected whole bay leaves. Per jar 50c.

CELERY—A convenient way of adding this well-known flavouring to soups and many other dishes. Celery is rich in magnesium, iron, potash, lime, sulphur and chlorine.

CHIVES—Retains the Chives flavor very well, and is a most convenient way to add the delicate onion flavor to all sorts of dishes.

DILL—Add to fish sauce and cream sauce for chicken, to cottage and cream cheese, to potato salad; and sprinkle over meats.

FENNEL—An anise-like flavor, delicate in quality. Used in soups, beverages, salads and desserts. Especially associated with fish cookery. It is said Fennel is to fish what Mint is to lamb.

GUMBO FILE—Dried and granulated sassafras leaves used for richness in quality and flavoring of soups, stews and sauces, especially in Creole cookery.

MINT—The cool, fresh flavor of Mint, or, as it is also known, Spearmint and Lambmint,—has many uses such as flavoring for cooling drinks, sauce for lamb or mutton, to flavor beets, peas, carrots and many others. Used sparingly in fruit salad, combining particularly well with bananas, pineapple, or oranges.

PINEAPPLE MINT—A variation of mint which may be used in the same ways as ordinary mint.

OREGANO—This is a marjoram much used in Greece, Italy and in Mexico. The flavor is strong but much like Sweet Marjoram. It is used generally where Marjoram is used, especially in meat stews, gravies and sauces.

POT MARIGOLD—Developes a deep and unusual richness of color and quality in stews, soups, custard and sauces; also for garnishing.

ROSEMARY—Added sparingly, it gives a distinctive flavor to preserves, jams, sweet pickles, meat sauces, stews, poultry, cream soups and fish. Combines well with sage in stuffings for pork and veal.

SAGE—A strongly flavored old-time favorite, used in pork sausage, poultry seasoning, and many other ways.

SAVORY (Bohnenkraut)—Much used as a flavoring for beans, and in salads, vegetables, stews and other dishes. A pot of savory baked beans will extend the meat ration delightfully.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 29, 1944

The herb orders for my sister and my two daughters arrived in time for Christmas. Everybody was pleased with the different presents. My daughter in Atlanta wrote of ‘receiving a box from the most enchanting place with the most enticing smell,’ and that she and her Chow, ‘Smoky’ had to ‘sniff at it every little while.’ My other daughter in Jackson called it a ‘heathen name’ with a grand smell, perfuming the whole room.”

Mrs. Charles W. Burton.

HERB BLENDS FOR SPECIAL PURPOSES

These combinations have been carefully compounded by Mrs. Toole, after testing many old recipes. We believe you will like them.

POULTRY SEASONING—A blend of savory herbs to flavor stuffing of all kinds of poultry or game birds and fried chicken. Mix the herbs with the flour or batter in which the chicken is dipped when sauted. Customers tell us it is equally as good on other meat dishes.

FISH HERBS—This combination of nine herbs adds a delightful savor to any fish dish without obscuring the fish flavor. Mix in a sauce or add to a stuffing. Also mix with flour or other medium in which fish is dipped when sauted.

SAVORY MEAT HERBS—Try this combination of nine herbs that harmonize so delightfully with soups of meat stocks, consomme, roasts, meat loaves and all types of meat dishes. The herbs are either sprinkled over, rubbed or mixed into the meats. (Try any of the above blends with liver, tongue or heart).

OMELET HERBS—Adds zest to omelet or any egg dish. Mix the herbs with eggs before cooking, or sprinkle over omelet before folding. Delightful flavor, too, in creamed chicken or soups.

SALAD HERBS—A combination of ten herbs for seasoning salad dressings or to sprinkle on leafy salads and various salad mixtures. This is very popular. Gives a tantalizing flavor to either vegetable or fruit salads. Add to the dressing an hour or two before serving to get the full flavor of the blend.

TISANES or HERB TEAS

With the increasing scarcity of China Tea, why not adopt the custom so prevalent over much of Europe, that of drinking some of the various herb teas. You will particularly enjoy the distinctive flavors of Peppermint, or Peppermint and Lemon Verbena, Linden Blossom (Tilleul), Sage, Chamomile or Spearmint. Most of these will make good iced tea also. Besides being a good beverage, most of them are mildly soothing to the spirit;—and who does not need a bit of that in this trouble-torn world?

HERB TEAS in general are made by pouring boiling water over the herb, (about one teaspoonful to each cup of water) allow to steep about ten minutes, strain. Serve plain or with lemon or honey. Milk and cream usually are taboo. A porcelain container, and not metal, is used as in making other teas.

ALFALFA and PEPPERMINT—Alfalfa is rich in vitamins, especially vitamin K, and iron, also calcium. To this is added Peppermint for additional flavor.

Per Pkg., containing 1 oz. 35c

CHAMOMILE—Well known for its soothing quality. Besides this tendency to act as a nerve sedative it acts as a tonic to the digestive organs. Taken in sufficient quantity it is very effective in colds and fevers. May be sweetened with sugar or honey. A good night-cap tea.

Per Pkg., containing 1¼ oz. 35c

HAGENBUTTEN—An old-time tea-drink made from the berries of the wild rose. They have a high potassium content, a fair amount of magnesium, a small amount of lime, sodium and iron. They are very high in vitamin C. This vitamin is being prepared from the wild rose hip in Soviet factories; while the English are procuring the vitamin in various ways from this source. Simmer gently, strain and serve with sugar or honey.

Per Pkg., containing 2 oz. 35c

LABRADOR TEA—Also known as Revolutionary Tea—a quite different flavor—to quote one writer—“somewhat like Oriental tea.” Add a little lemon for iced tea.

Per Pkg., containing 1 oz. 35c

LINDEN BLOSSOM—The Tilleul of France—makes a warm golden liquid with a delicious aroma. Lemon may be served with this tea, also, try one or two cloves in each cup. It is mildly stimulant. Has been used for simple indigestion; also, in colds, used in quantity, to produce perspiration and relieve simple coughs.

Per Pkg., containing 1½ oz. 35c

MINT—This infusion, with the addition of a slice of lemon, is very refreshing, served hot or cold. Especially good for the digestion.

Per Pkg., containing 1 oz. 35c

SIMPLES OR MEDICINAL HERBS

We have carefully prepared the following special “herbs for use and physic, not a few.” These as well as many of the culinary herbs were used as home remedies in pioneer times; and most of them still are recognized as standard remedies.

The constant demands on our strength and endurance, and the scarcity of doctors and nurses, makes it of increasing importance that we keep ourselves free from minor illnesses which so often grow to major proportions. What more natural than we go back to the old-time tried and true remedies of our forefathers,—the basis of all our modern medical lore. A few of these follow .

BONESET—Steep a level teaspoon in a cup of boiling water for one-half hour. Taken hot it is an emetic, cold it acts as a tonic.

CATNIP—Hot catnip tea is a stimulant and strengthens the kidneys as well as the whole system. The tea also breaks up a cold. A little milk is often added to this tea.

CELERY—Celery tea, strong and hot, is of value in the cure of sciatica and neuralgia.

ELDER FLOWERS—Useful in rheumatism, gout and colds.

HOREHOUND—A good tonic. The tea, sweetened with honey, is useful in treatment of coughs and colds. Used also in the well known horehound candy.

HYSSOP—An infusion of this is a remedy for coughs, colds and pulmonary complaints generally.

RUE—A bitter and aromatic stimulant very good for gas pains and colic.

TANSY—Tansy tea was an old remedy for nausea, colds and rheumatism.

WORMWOOD—A good remedy for weak digestion and consequent debility. Also a hot application of wormwood in vinegar, and a bit of salt, is a valuable remedy for sprains and bruises (with unbroken skin).

YARROW—The infusion is used for colds and as a gargle for ordinary sore throat. It sometimes relieves simple intestinal cramps and pains, and the commencement of a fever.

Prices of the above medicinal herbs—

PSYLLIUM SEED

The New Remedy for Constipation

Culpeper House, The Society of Herbalists, of London, England, says of Psyllium Seeds—“As a result of exhaustive experiments in the Laboratory of the Paris Faculty of Medicine, French doctors have discovered that the seeds of the Psyllium Plantago, a plantain found growing wild in the region of the Mediterranean, are a most excellent laxative.—Inodorous, and nearly tasteless,—their action is simple. They swell and soften and give out their natural oils.”

A mild, but effective laxative, the Crushed Psyllium Seeds may be sprinkled over breakfast food or taken separately.

JELLIES AND JAMS

Due to the increasing uncertainty of sugar rationing we reluctantly omit offering the popular jellies and jams in this issue of Herb Magic. We hope the sugar supply will have become stable enough by the time of our Fall issue to allow us again to offer these very popular food items.

A LETTER FROM HENRY BESTON, "Chimney Farm," Nobleboro, Me.—

Mr. Beston is author of that most useful and valuable book on herb culture, "Herbs and the Earth." Unfortunately this book is temporarily out of print but we hope that it will be available again soon. We have carried on a delightful correspondence with him and among many other things he has written the following to us, entirely unsolicited and unrewarded:

"Perhaps what I most wanted to set down was that your herb products seemed to me incomparably the best I have ever been able to purchase here, and right up with the top-notch European best. They are beautifully blended, genuine ripened, and the taste is a thing of considered distinction.

"A good French Stew without a soupcon of your meat herbs is like a hot roll without butter. The garlic vinegar, too, was a humdinger, and was the only garlic vinegar I've ever succeeded in getting which had real substance like a good wine, 'body' as they say. Most of the stuff one buys is simply cider vinegar in which a clove of garlic took a short swim."

Faithfully Your Friend, Henry Beston.

Native Ferns

Do not plant ferns with much covering over the crowns, just enough to anchor them to the soil. The Ostrich Fern should be set with part of the crown above the soil. All of the ferns are adapted to both spring and fall planting, though late spring or summer planting of the larger varieties requires extra in the fall, mulch with leaves or straw for protection over the first winter. If care in providing constant moisture until the roots are established. If planted during the growing season and the tops become broken or bruised, cut them off and new fronds will soon appear.

Most all ferns require a plentiful supply of leaf mold, peat or other loose humus in the soil to give the best results. Ferns have a tendency to ripen off early in the season if the summer is very hot and dry. Frequent and plentiful watering will extend their season very materially.

In order to economize we have reduced the number of varieties of ferns and natives but we can supply most of the varieties that have appeared in recent lists, at the prices given in these lists.

Wild Flowers

Those who have once treasured and nursed a wild flower into bloom in their own garden or watched the tender new frond of a fern unfold its beauty under their own protection seem ever after more appreciative of plants in their wild haunts, and more anxious to conserve their beauty for all the world to enjoy.

Each year as people learn to know and love our own wild flowers, we see less wanton destruction of our native flora, and more desire to truly conserve our native landscape.
